Dear Friends and Supporters:

This summer you will notice construction taking place on the roof, siding, doors and windows of the Lake Carmel Cultural Center. This work to secure and tighten the structure is being paid for by the previously announced $400,000 grant secured by the Town of Kent.

The Spring Art Exhibit, May 21-30, followed by the one-acts from the Playwrights Workshop, June 10 and 11, and the Rock Concert on June 25 will be the last events in the Center until work is completed in the fall. 'Though, as you can see in flyers and on the website, our summer events and June classes will continue – at other locations.

While construction takes place on the shell of the building, we hope to work on the rooms we use so that upon return the performance/gallery space will have track lighting, appropriately flexible stage and seating, a higher ceiling and more functional bathrooms. These interior improvements are expected to cost about $30,000. Although we have some funds and pledges in hand, we must appeal to our friends and supporters so the work can be completed this summer.

To inaugurate this fund drive, we are inviting donors to a special viewing of the Spring Art Exhibit with a wine and dessert reception on Friday, May 27, from 7-9 pm. If you can support our newest initiative, it will be a chance to meet with some of the artists, board members and staff of this unique Center.

Whether in person, on-line or by mail, donations to the Building Fund assure Arts on the Lake's continued growth and are fully tax-deductible.

Your support has enabled us to do much, but, in the words of Carolyn Leigh to a Cy Coleman tune, "The best is yet to come."

Sincerely,

James Shearwood
Artistic and Administrative Director
